

At the conclusion of the event, it is our hope that participating students and campus ministries will take time to reflect on the impact of the event and evaluate what it means to them. Articles and reflections can be submitted for our publication in our monthly e-newsletter "The Update" or our trimester printed publication, "The Collegian."

Some months you may find that you already have an event on the scheduled day for the "How to be a Voice" events and you cannot participate, but don't let that discourage you! Do what you can with what you have. The campaign is about joining together with Catholic collegians and campus ministries from around the country in a common effort, even though we are unable to physically join together.

If you have any questions about the "How to be a Voice" programs, or any other programming opportunities, please don't hesitate to contact us!
